

Black Lake

CHEQUAMEGON-NICOLET NATIONAL FOREST

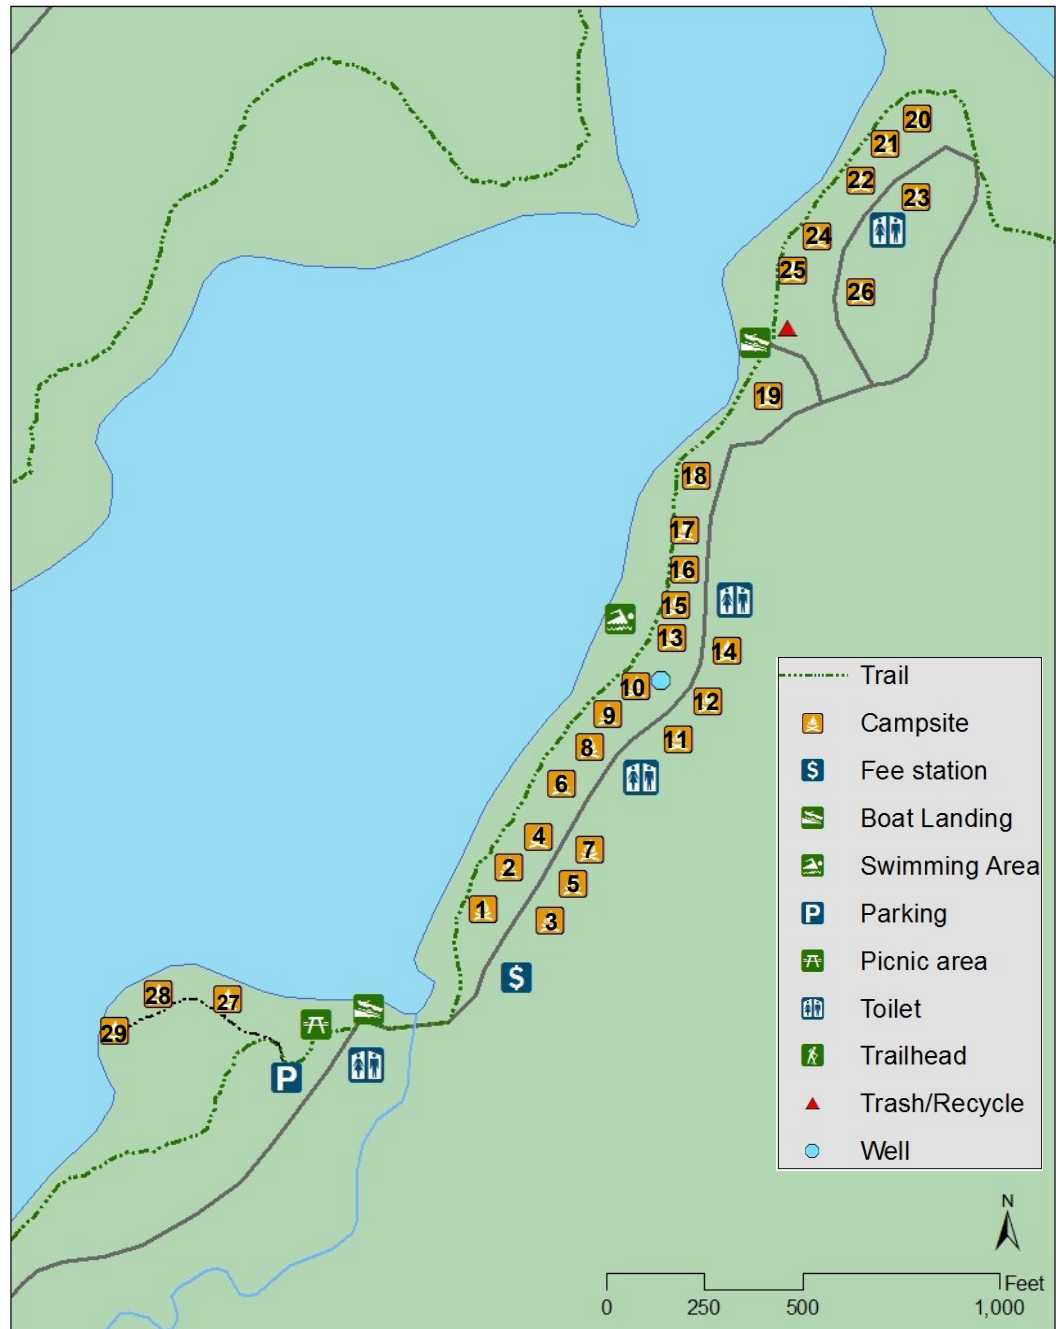

GREAT DIVIDE RANGER DISTRICT

Black Lake Campground is a family-favorite campground on the Great Divide Ranger District. It is spread along the eastern shores of its namesake, Black Lake. The campground is located within the birch, pine, and spruce forest surrounding this beautiful 129-acre lake. All campsites provide hardened parking area, picnic table, and fire ring. Recycling and trash dumpsters are provided. Vault toilets are provided throughout campground and day-use area. A grassy beach provides ample space to run and play, as well as a spot to relax.

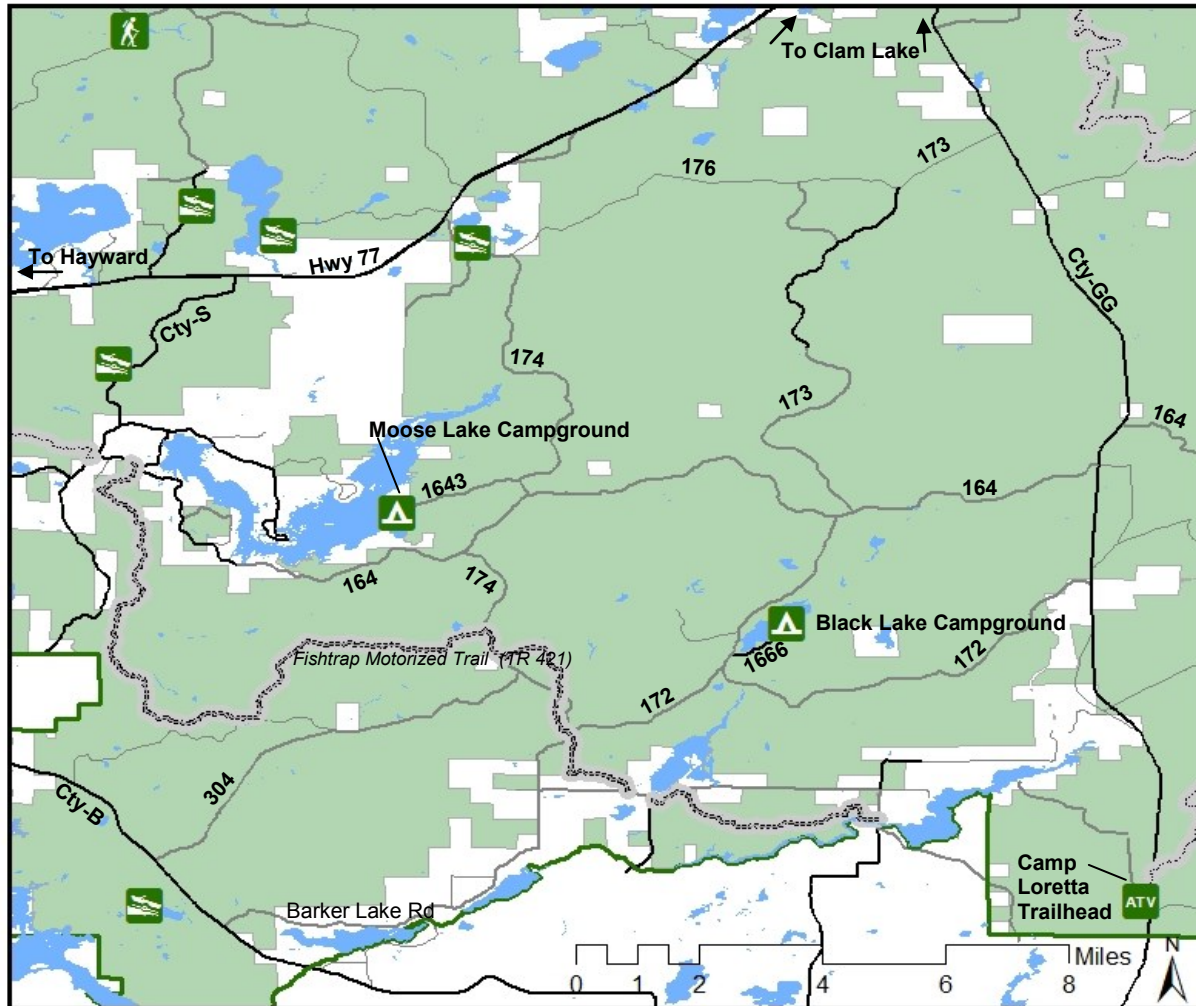

The calm waters beckon to adventurers, offering fishing, boating, swimming and other recreational activities. Fishing draws the attention of many anglers seeking musky, walleye, bass and panfish. Kayaking and canoeing are also enjoyed by visitors, as the water is usually peaceful and calm. A variety of wildlife, including elk, deer, loon, fox and others, make their homes in the area and are often spotted by visitors. The Black Lake Trail offers a 4-mile leisurely hike around the lake, with interpretation about the logging history and the Civilian Conservation Corps heritage of the area.

Features:

- Most sites are lakefront. Some sites are on the reservation system.
- Two boat ramps are located onsite.
- Interpretive trail onsite shows a glimpse early logging history in the Wisconsin Northwoods.
